SONG TOURNAMENT

Given Last Night Under Thomson Church Auspices.

THE ATTENDANCE WAS VERY GOOD

And the Quality of the Performance Was High Enough to Pack the House, Which Will No Doubt be the Condition of Affairs To-night, When the Tournament Will be Repeated. The Various Numbers Given.

The "Song Tournament of the Nations," given at the Opera House last evening under the auspices of the Young Men's Improvement Society of Thomson M. E. church (Island), was a success, both from a box office and artistic point of view. In the auditorium the theatre was crowded, but the gallery was not largely patronized. In quality the audience compared with that in attendance at any performance lately at the Opera House. The tournament will be repeated this evening, and the prospect is that the house will be crowded above and below. The entertainment is worthy of a full house, and furthermore the object in view, the young men's society's contribution to the cost of the recent extensive improvements on the Thomson church edifice should attract all the people of the city who feel an interest in church improvement.

Very few local amateur performances have enlisted so many sincere as does the song tournament in which members of all the city church choirs take part. The first event on the program was the solo "I am the spirit of song," by Miss Loretta McGranahan, which was followed by one by Mr. Harry Sweeney, "Let the trumpet sound." Both were good and were received with appreciation. Then the double trio selection "From Britannia's soil," was rendered by the following: Mrs. C. H. Watkins, Jr., Mr. William Dulin, Mr. C. H. Winchester, Miss Laura Serig, Mr. William Nesbitt, Mr. A. L. Edwards.

The recitative selection, "Take the harp, again, Britannia," by Mr. Harry Sweeney was a feature of the evening. The English lullaby, (modern), "Oh, hush thee my babe," was given by the following singers: Misses Lottie Marsh, Emma Yahn, Maude Spooner, Belle McGranahan, Lillie Anderson, Flora Gilbreath, Mrs. C. H. Watkins, Jr., Mrs. Walter Woods, Messrs. William Lane, Charles Israel, Allen Robinson, Harry K. Bell, Chester K. Bell, Harry Maguire, William Stalter, and Walter Sadler.

The German selection on the program, was "Where are the skies of tenderest blue," rendered by: Mrs. John Turner, Misses Lydia Prince, Florence Phillips, Bessie McGranahan, Messrs. William Dulin, C. H. Winchester, Charles Juergens, John W. Slide, and H. C. Sweeney.

The German chorus, grand march from "Tannhauser," entitled, "Joyful We Greet," was given effectively by the full chorus, after which Mr. Sweeney gave another recitative selection, "Hear the Voice of Tyrol Land."

The Tyrol lullaby song, "A Song for Tyrol Land," was very fine, by the following young ladies and gentlemen: Mrs. A. E. Summers, Misses Sue Oliver, Mary Williams, Emma Connelly, Clara Sadler, Kate Morris, Eula Hatch, Laura Burt, Lydia Oliver, Lillian Rodall, Florence Phillips, Margaret Hall, Mrs. Walter Woods, Messrs. William Lane, William Donaldson, William Dulin, William Nesbitt, A. C. Nolte, John M. Voellinger, William Merchant, William Stalter, Harry Jamison, A. L. Edwards, G. O. Smith, C. H. Watkins, Jr., John Crawford.

After "Room for the golden land of melody," recitative, by Mr. Sweeney, the Italian chorus, "Oh, Italia, Italia beloved," was rendered by the full chorus. Another recitative selection was given, and then the following double quartette gave "Sing to France in joyous measure." Misses Blanche Chapman, Sue Oliver, Mary Faris, Flora Gilbreath, Messrs. H. K. Bell, A. C. Nolte, C. K. Bell, H. Maguire.

The opening number of the second part of the program was the international march by young ladies representing England, Germany, Ireland, Scotland, Switzerland, Italy and America, in which, of course, America came in for the greater portion of the applause. The following young ladies figured in this feature:

German—Maggie Lindsey, Blanche Chapman, Jessie Marsh, Carrie Hall, Lottie Marsh, Carrie Taylor.
English—Eva Goodwin, Maude Chapman, Belle McGranahan, Josie Francis, Kate Phillips, Florence Phillips.
Swiss—Maggie Williams, Maggie Tomlinson, Lydia Oliver, May Faris, Dora Oliver, Edna Watkins.

Italian—Flora Gilbreath, Laura Burt, Mollie Daily, Lillie Anderson, Clara Sadler, Lillie Rodall.

American—Bessie Donaldson, Eula Hatch, Lottie McGee, Laura Serig, Alberta Prince, Maude Spooner.

The solo by Mrs. John Turner, "I am Columbia, from all nations my children come," was excellently done and received enthusiastic appreciation from the audience. The Irish solo by Miss Emma Connelly, "The meeting of the waters," was also applauded generously and the young lady responded with an encore. The Scotch song, "Bonnie Dundee," by Mrs. Lizzie Lash Woodworth, was one of the best on the program and the singer responded to continued applause. The American southern song, "Old folks at home," by Miss Emma Yahn, "My old Kentucky home," by Master Charley Dunlay and the American northern song, "Our native land," by Walter G. Sadler, were all good. The American choruses, "The Star Spangled Banner," by the first choir; "Oh, we'll rally 'round the flag," by the second choir; "Hail Columbia, happy land," by the third choir, and "Hail, hail to thee, sweet liberty," by the full chorus, were given with much power and expression.

The American tripple quartet, "And this dear land," was by the following ladies and gentlemen: Misses Bessie Donaldson, Lottie Marsh, Sue Oliver, Laura Serig, Maude Chapman, Mrs. C. H. Watkins, Jr., Messrs. H. K. Bell, Wm. Dulin, C. H. Winchester, A. L. Edwards, Harry Jamison, Charles Juergens and John Crawford.

The finale, Canto Formo, "My country 'tis of thee," was by Messrs. Sweeney, Juergens, Bell, Maguire and Crawford, with the full chorus accompanying with, "Oh, yes to thee, sweet liberty."
